

Daniel Sauvet-Goichon

Biographical note

Daniel Sauvet-Goichon worked in TDF, the main French broadcasting and telecommunications network operator, until August 2006.

His two last positions in TDF were “Director, Frequency spectrum and Standardisation” and before that position, R&D Director in TDF since 1989.

He is a member of the French National Frequency Agency (ANFR) Board.

He has been Chairman of the EBU (European Broadcasting Union) Technical Committee from 1998 to 2006.

He is Vice-Chairman of the DVB Technical Module and Chairman of DigiTAG.

He is graduated of the "École Polytechnique", in Paris, 1967 and of the French national telecommunications high school, 1970.